

sincerely do I thank you for the great trouble
 you have taken. You
 have not only read
 the whole of it
 but have written
 considerable notes, &
 you have pointed out
 many better names
 than I could have
 given myself.
 I shall so soon write
 to you with an abstract of my general views on the origin of species, &
 it will not be a volume of about 500 pages. I shall have several passages
 - sending you a copy
 when it is published -
 I shall give abstract of conclusion to which I have arrived in these cells - Believe me
 with my kindest
 regards
 (Darwin)
